PROFESSORSHIP OF CLASSICS.

UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE.

Established by Act of Parliament of South Australia, and endowed with 40,000l. invested at 5l. per cent. per annum, and 50,000 acres of land, and supplemented by a grant from the Colonial Revenue of 5l. per cent. per annum on all investments.

A Vacancy having occurred in the HUGHES PROFESSORSHIP OF CLASSICS and COMPARATIVE PHILOLOGY and LITERATURE, the Council of the University invite applications from intending Candidates.

The Salary of the Professor will be 1,000l. per annum, without fees or residence, and he must engage actively in the work of Teaching as well as of Lecturing and Examining, and devote himself exclusively to the duties of his Professorship.

Candidates must be laymen. Graduates of Universities of the United Kingdom, and of sound constitution and in good health.

The Professor must arrive in Adelaide not later than the middle of February next, and the salary will be paid from the 1st day of January, 1879. The first quarter's salary will, if required, be paid by the undersigned in advance on embarkation. Passage money will not be paid.

The Professor will be elected by a Board of Electors in London, who will require a personal interview with such of the candidates as they shall designate.

Applications must be forwarded not later than the 1st day of November, 1878, to the undersigned, from whom all further necessary information may be obtained.

By authority of the Council of the University of Adelaide,
ARTHUR BLYTH,
Agent-General for South Australia.

THE EVOLUTION of MORALITY: being a History of the Development of Moral Culture. By
C. STANILAND WAKE, Author of "Chapters on Man," &c.
2 vols.

"An extensive and valuable collection of facts bearing on the important problem treated of by the author."—Fortnightly Review.
"The work throughout is as interesting as it is thoughtful and well-written."—British Quarterly Review.

"The tone of the work, even when disagreeable topics are dealt with, is temperate and reverent."—Saturday Review.

"Mr. Wake has, we think, done good service in showing the inadequateness of that theory of the genesis of conscience which refers it exclusively to the social affections."—Examiner.

"In tracing the lines of moral development, Mr. Wake reviews the principal systems of religion—Hinduism, Buddhism, Mithraism, Christianity, and Positivism."—Academy.

"A work which is full of the most valuable facts, and of many important suggestions."—Nonconformist.

"The author is evidently an original thinker, who has brought to bear an enormous amount of original research acquired in a very wide field of anthropological enquiry."—Full Mail Gazette.

In the NOVEMBER NUMBER of "SCRIBNER" will be commenced a New Novel by

MRS. FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT,

Author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," "Theo," &c., entitled

"HAWORTH'S."

The scene of Mrs. Burnett's New Novel is laid in Lancashire; the hero is a young inventor, of American birth. "Haworth's" is the longest story Mrs. Burnett has yet written. It will run through twelve numbers of the Monthly, and will be illustrated more profusely than any serial which has appeared in Scribner's Illustrated Magazine.

Facts about "SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE."

1. That it is published at One Shilling per month, and is the cheapest Magazine of its kind issued.
2. That its Illustrations are without a parallel in all Magazine literature.
3. That it consists of entirely original matter by the first writers of the day.
4. That a united Press has from time to time expressed themselves in wonder at the style of production of Scribner's Monthly.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

The Current Number as issued can be obtained on the 29th of every month at all Railway Bookstalls or Booksellers.

PRICE ONE SHILLING;

Or a P.O.O. for 15s. remitted to the Publishers or any Bookseller will ensure a despatch by post of the Twelve Monthly Numbers, 1878-79.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

SPECTATOR.

"The movement for the Endowment of Research is no longer the impracticable crusade which it appeared to be twelve months ago. The activity of its promoters, and the unexpected sympathy which it has inspired in official quarters, have enabled it to make its way into the arena of practical politics. In the struggle which is being carried on as to University reform, it is one of the forces which must be calculated for, and it is therefore extremely important that we should understand its direction and its aim. The volume before us throws welcome light upon much that was before vague or enigmatical in the programme of the new party."

WORLD.

"In the speech in which he introduced the Oxford Reform Bill, Lord Salisbury made himself the mouthpiece of the authors of Essays in aid of the Endowment of Research."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"It is, then, a little remarkable that not one of them has even attempted to grapple with the real difficulties of the question."

ATHENAEUM.

"It is something, however, to have pointed out the want, and to have promoted its public recognition. We may now look confidently for future improvement to a set of opinion which has already far outrun the most sanguine anticipations of those who, when they originally appealed to it, did so with scarcely a hope of immediate success."

EXAMINER.

"The object of these essays is to expound a new conception of the proper employment of University endowments; or rather, as the writers seem disposed to put it, to recal men's minds to an old conception which has fallen into neglect."

ACADEMY.

"These essays, which are all written by advocates of what is called Endowment of Research in the Universities, will help to remove many false impressions on that subject. It will be clear from them that all that has been found to be good and useful at Oxford and Cambridge may remain undisturbed, and that there are ample resources to add to it all that the most ardent reformers can desire. The idea of changing the English into German Universities, of suppressing the College system, of substituting professorial for tutorial teaching, is not even mooted in any of these Essays. They are all occupied with the question how the present system of University education can be rendered more efficient, and how, by the side of it, or in the midst of it, all that is good in the German Universities, and much that even German Universities have not hitherto attempted, may be superadded."

MACMILLAN'S MAGAZINE.

"This volume of Essays pleads for the general recognition of principles which would aim at making our Universities the homes of more men like Professor Max Müller. . . . It is not urged that academical revenues should be devoted to that purpose exclusively."

LITERARY CHURCHMAN.

"This remarkable volume is the outward sign of an unmistakeable 'set' which ideas are taking in our generation; and it is, moreover, the proof that scientific studies have entered upon a new phase. . . . It is certainly an astonishing volume."

ECHO.

"This volume contains the best information extant on a subject which, although of national importance, is as yet but imperfectly understood by the general public."

GLOBE.

"The present volume is a thoughtful contribution to the discussion of the subject."

TIMES.

"It is an injustice to an essay so brilliant and so suggestive as Mr. Pattison's to present it to our readers in the above brief and imperfect summary. It deserves the careful attention of all who are interested in the question of University organisation and reform. There can be no doubt that the question raised by Mr. Pattison in his concluding words will have to be discussed, and in some manner settled by the new Oxford Commissioners."

PALL MALL GAZETTE.

"Several of the earlier essays are of value in clearing the ground of the question. In particular, Mr. Cotton's essay on the intentions of the founders of fellowships is well worth study. . . . Dr. Appleton shows quite conclusively that the Endowment of Education is economically unsound in principle, and with great plausibility that the Endowment of Research is economically sound. . . . Assuming, as it is safe to assume, that some considerable reduction of the number of fellowships will take place, the question arises, What is to be done with the money? and the extreme difficulty of suggesting any more satisfactory answer than that offered by the advocates of the Endowment of Research gives the real strength to their proposals."

STANDARD.

"All our sympathies are with Mr. Pattison and his friends."

NATURE.

"Widely as we should wish to see this book read amongst the laymen of science, the Philistines and those who prophesy to them, politicians and practical reformers, it will certainly be found quite as valuable as by any of these by men of science. Men of science will find in the present volume data and suggestions which should aid them greatly, at this critical moment, to determine what they will urge upon the Government, as the fit relationship between the State and scientific research. . . . The eminence and competency of the writers give it an overwhelming force of authority and reason."

 Purifies and Enriches the Blood.
 Strengthens the Nerves and Muscular System.
 Promotes Appetite and Improves Digestion.
 Animates the Spirits and Mental Faculties.
 Thoroughly recruits the general bodily health, and induces a proper healthy condition of the Nervous and Physical Forces.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC.
 Bottles containing 32 measured doses, 4s. 6d.
 Sold by all Chemists.
 In the preparation of this Tonic the greatest care is exercised. It is a faithful compound of Quinine, the active principle of Yellow Cinchona, or Peruvian Bark, blended with a refined trustworthy preparation of Iron, produced in a form which the experience of many years has proved the best. It offers a ready means of gaining the strength and other benefits afforded by Quinine and Iron, without any fear of ill consequences.—The name of J. PEPPER is signed in red ink on the label.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN.—A fluid combination for Derangement of the Liver, particularly when arising from slight congestion. By gently stimulating the action of the liver and slightly moving the bowels, the heavy, drowsy feeling, with sensations of fullness, headache, pain beneath the shoulders, and other indications of Dyspepsia are removed. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is much safer than calomel or blue pill, and quite as effective for removing bile.—Prepared by J. PEPPER, 237 Tottenham Court Road, London, whose name must be on the label.—Bottles 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. each. Sold by all Chemists.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

MESSRS. RIVINGTON'S NEW LIST.

Three Vols. With Maps, &c. Demy 4to.

The ANNOTATED BIBLE. Being a Household Commentary upon the Holy Scriptures, comprehending the Results of Modern Discovery and Criticism. By the Rev. JOHN HENRY BLUNT, M.A., F.S.A., Editor of "The Annotated Book of Common Prayer," "The Dictionary of Theology," &c., &c.

This work has been written with the object of providing for educated readers a compact intellectual exposition of the Holy Bible, in which they may find such explanations and illustrations of the Sacred Books as will meet the necessities of the ordinary, as distinguished from the laboriously learned, enquirer of the present day.

Great care has been taken to compress as much information as possible into the Annotations by condensed language, by giving the results of enquiry without adding the detailed reasonings by which those results have been arrived at, by occupying scarcely any space with controversy, and by casting much matter into a tabular form.

Every book has an Introduction prefixed to it, which gives some account of its authorship, date, contents, object, and such other particulars as will put the reader in possession of the best modern conclusions on these subjects. The Annotations are also illustrated by text maps and other engravings when necessary, and full-page coloured maps are added for the general illustration of Biblical Geography from the best authorities.

The Commentary is preceded by a General Introduction, which contains chapters on the Literary History of the Bible (illustrated by engraved facsimiles, and by specimens of English Bibles from the tenth to the seventeenth centuries), on the trustworthiness of the Bible in its existing form, the revelation and inspiration of Holy Scripture, the interpretation of Holy Scripture, and the liturgical use of the Bible. There are also special Introductions to the New Testament and the Apocrypha.

VOL. I. (668 pages.)—Containing the GENERAL INTRODUCTION, with Text and Annotations on the Books from GENESIS to ESTHER. 31s. 6d.
